Martin Luther King Jr.'s niece instructs ALL CHRISTIANS how to vote!

Martin Luther King's family are so impressive to me, including his Niece Alveda King who calls on ALL CHRISTIANS to vote...

"Civil rights. Human rights. It all goes together," King said.

"Women absolutely have a right to choose what we do with our bodies, I'll argue anybody down who says we don't. But then the baby needs a lawyer. Where's the baby's lawyer?"

"As you know, it's so important that we always embrace the sanctity of life. One way to do that is to vote Pro-life in every election," King said.

"Now, as Christians, we are blessed with the responsibility of educating our communities regarding the importance of voting for the sanctity of life in the upcoming elections, and indeed all elections. This responsibility isn't just for now; this voter education effort should be an ongoing outreach for people of faith! We must continually work to obtain and preserve the right to vote and future votes of babies in the womb, their parents, the sick, the elderly, the poor, all Americans," she continued.

King is encouraging pro-life Christians to encourage their friends and family who appreciate the value of life to get out and vote. So does this Evangelist Christian Patriot.
